Appendix – Business Standards and Professional Certifications

Education and Business Standards

LJPR Financial Advisors requires that advisors in its employ have a bachelor's degree and further coursework demonstrating knowledge of financial planning and tax planning. Examples of acceptable coursework include: an MBA, a CFP®, a CFA, a ChFC, JD, CTFA, or CPA. Additionally, advisors must have work experience that demonstrates their aptitude for financial planning and investment management.

Professional Certifications

Credentials held by LJPR advisors are explained in further detail in this section.

CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™ (CFP®)

Certified Financial Planners are licensed by the CFP® Board to use the CFP® mark. CFP® certification requirements are:

- Bachelor's degree from an accredited college or university.
- Completion of the financial planning education requirements set by the CFP® Board (www.cfp.net).
- Successful completion of the CFP® Certification Exam.
- Three year qualifying full-time work experience.
- Successfully pass the Candidate Fitness Standards and a background check.

Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA)

Chartered Financial Analysts are licensed by the CFA Institute to use the CFA mark. CFA certification requirements are:

- Hold a bachelor's degree from an accredited institution or have equivalent education or work experience.
- Successful completion of all exam levels of the CFA Program.
- Have 48 months of acceptable professional work experience in the investment decision-making process.
- Fulfill society requirements, which vary by society. Unless you are upgrading from an affiliate membership, all societies require two sponsor statements as part of each application, submitted by the sponsors.

- Agree to adhere to and sign the Member's Agreement, a Professional Conduct Statement, and any additional documentation requested by the CFA Institute.

Certified Public Accountant (CPA)

Certified Public Accountants are licensed and regulated by their state boards of accountancy.

While state laws and regulations vary, the education, experience and testing requirements for licensure as a CPA generally include minimum college education (typically 150 credit hours with at least a baccalaureate degree and a concentration in accounting), minimum experience levels (most states require at least one year of experience providing services that involve the use of accounting, attest, compilation, management advisory, financial advisory, tax or consulting skills, all of which must be achieved under the supervision of or verification by a CPA), and successful passage of the Uniform CPA Examination.

In order to maintain a CPA license, states generally require the completion of 40 hours of continuing professional education (CPE) each year (or 80 hours over a two year period, or 120 hours over a three year period). Additionally, all American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA) members are required to follow a rigorous Code of Professional Conduct which requires that they act with integrity, objectivity, due care, competence, fully disclose any conflicts of interest (and obtain client consent if a conflict exists), maintain client confidentiality, disclose to the client any commission or referral fees, and serve the public interest when providing financial services. In addition to the Code of Professional Conduct, AICPA members who provide personal financial planning services are required to follow the Statement on Standards in Personal Financial Planning Services (SSPFPS). Most state boards of accountancy define financial planning as the practice of public accounting and therefore have jurisdiction over CPAs practicing in this discipline; state boards would likely look to the Statement as the authoritative guidance in this practice area regardless of specific or blanketed adoption of AICPA standards.

Personal Financial Specialist (PFS)

The PFS credential demonstrates that an individual has met the minimum education, experience, and testing required of a CPA in addition to a minimum level of expertise in personal financial planning.

To attain the PFS credential, a candidate must:

- Hold an unrevoked CPA license, certificate, or permit, none of which are in inactive status.
- Fulfill 3000 hours of personal financial planning business experience.
- Complete 75 hours of personal financial planning credits.

- Pass a comprehensive financial planning exam.
- Be an active member of the AICPA.

A PFS credential holder is required to adhere to AICPA's Code of Professional Conduct and the Statement on Standards in Personal Financial Planning Services, when providing personal financial planning services. To maintain the PFS credential, the recipient must complete 60 hours of financial planning CPE credits every three years. The PFS credential is administered through the AICPA.

Accredited Investment Fiduciary (AIF®)

There are four requirements for attaining the AIF® credential that must be completed sequentially:

1. Enroll in and complete AIF® training.
2. Pass the AIF® examination with a minimum score of 75%.
3. Meet the experience requirement.
4. Submit the application and dues.

There are three combinations of education, experience and/or professional development required to satisfy the experience requirement:

- Minimum of two years of relevant experience, a bachelor's degree or higher, and a professional credential.
- Minimum of five years of relevant experience, a bachelor's degree or higher, or a professional credential.
- Minimum of eight years of relevant experience.

A degree must be awarded by an accredited U.S. college or university. International degrees may be substituted for a U.S. degree if they receive equivalency from a third-party evaluation agency that is a member of the National Association of Credential Evaluation Services (NACES).

A professional credential is one conferred by a recognized body within the financial services industry. Candidates must meet all established initial and ongoing requirements, and be in good standing.

Annually, AIF® holders are required to accrue and report six hours of continuing education, attest to a set of Conduct Standards and a Code of Ethics.

For more information, please visit fi360.com.

Accredited Investment Fiduciary Analyst (AIFA®)

Accredited Investment Fiduciary Analyst (AIFA): The AIFA designation certifies that the recipient has advanced knowledge of fiduciary standards of care, their application to the investment management process, and procedures for assessing conformance by third parties to fiduciary standards. There are five requirements for attaining the AIFA® credential. 1) Attain the AIF® designation 2) Enroll in and complete the AIFA® Training 3) Pass the AIFA® Assessment 4) A minimum of eight (8) years of relevant experience is required to attain the AIFA® credential. Relevant experience is that which has been accrued in a non-clerical role within the financial services (or a related) industry 5) Submit the application and dues Included in the application are sections to attest to both the Code of Ethics and Conduct Standards. The Code of Ethics consists of the tenets of ethical conduct expected of all credential holders, while the Conducts Standards pertain to any past criminal and civil litigation, regulatory events, and personal and professional conduct. AIFA® designees are required to complete a minimum of ten hours of Continuing Education ("CE") per reporting period. The CE requirement is effective immediately upon attainment of the AIFA® designation, and CE hours may be accrued from a variety of sources. All CE is subject to audit by, and final approval from, fi360.

For more information, please visit fi360.com.

Accredited Wealth Management Advisor (AWMA®)

Individuals who hold the AWMA® designation have completed a course of study encompassing wealth strategies, equity-based compensation plans, tax reduction alternatives, and asset protection alternatives. Additionally, individuals must pass an end-of-course examination that tests their ability to synthesize complex concepts and apply theoretical concepts to real-life situations.

All AWMA® holders agree to adhere to the College of Financial Planning's Standards of Professional Conduct, and are subject to a disciplinary process.

AWMA® designations are renewed every two years by completing 16 hours of continuing education, reaffirming adherence to the Standards of Professional Conduct, and complying with self-disclosure requirements.

The AWMA® designation is awarded by the College for Financial Planning.

For more information on the AWMA® designation, visit cffpinfo.com

Certified Investment Management Analyst (CIMA)

Individuals holding the CIMA certification have completed a five step certification process that requires candidates to meet all eligibility requirements. The steps are:

1. Submit a CIMA application and pass a background check.
2. Study for and pass a two hour qualification exam.

3. Complete an in-person or online executive education program at a top-20 business school registered with the Investment Management Consultants Association® (IMCA).
4. Study for and pass a four hour comprehensive Certification Examination.
5. Sign a licensing agreement, document a minimum of 3 years of experience in financial services, submit to a second background check, and agree to adhere to the IMCA Code of Professional Responsibility, Standards of Practice, and Rules and Guidelines for Use of the Marks.

Certifications must be renewed every two years by:

1. Complete and report a minimum of 40 hours of continuing education credit, including two hours covering ethics.
2. Pay a certification renewal fee.
3. Complete a compliance disclosure and indicate continued adherence to IMCA's Code of Professional Responsibility, and Rules and Guidelines for Use of the Marks, as well as disclose any federal or state regulatory actions or complaints.

For more information in the CIMA designation, visit imca.org.

Chartered Alternative Investment Analyst (CAIA)

The CAIA Charter, recognized globally, is administered by the Chartered Alternative Investment Analyst Association and requires a comprehensive understanding of core and advanced concepts regarding alternative investments, structures, and ethical obligations. To qualify for the CAIA Charter, finance professionals must complete a self-directed, comprehensive course of study on risk-return attributes of institutional quality alternative assets; pass both the Level I and Level II CAIA examinations at global, proctored testing centers; attest annually to the terms of the Member Agreement; and hold a US bachelor's degree (or equivalent) plus have at least one year of professional experience or have four years of professional experience. Professional experience includes full-time employment in a professional capacity within the regulatory, banking, financial, or related fields. Once a qualified candidate completes the CAIA program, he or she may apply for CAIA membership and the right to use the CAIA designation, providing an opportunity to access ongoing educational opportunities.

For more information on the CAIA designation, visit caia.org.
